

HR ExecuSummit – 2008 - Presenter Biography

The Future of Human Resources

Jason Boltax
President and Founder
JHB Human Capital Management

Jason Boltax is the president and founder of JHB Human Capital Management (www.jhbhcm.com), a human resources strategy consulting firm, specializing in HR management, organizational assessments and workforce development. Jason has more than 11 years of experience in implementing strategic business solutions through integrated HR services and technology. He has held positions in HR operations, client delivery, project management, and currently provides consultative services to organizations to assist them in meeting their human resources challenges. He is recognized for his innovative bottom-line driven solutions and programs.

Jason is also the founder of the New York Human Resources/Human Capital Management Group (www.hr.meetup.com/36), an organization that helps HR professionals broaden their business networks, share knowledge and expertise and keep abreast of the latest trends, strategies and best practices in human resources.

Jason earned his masters degree in organizational psychology from Columbia University with a concentration in organizational change and consultation.

HR-ExecuSummit.com